

Canadian Canoe Foundation Testimonials

I think it's important that youth get a chance to explore their watershed by taking part in an environmental education canoe trip. When you experience your watershed by canoe you understand why it's important to protect the environment. It also teaches you about hard work and perseverance.
Victoria Merritt (participant), Miramichi River 2011.

We've learned many things on this trip. We learned about nuclear power plants and the effects on the river, about geology and underwater caves. We also learned about the history of the river: logging, commercial fishing, fur trading, pictographs and about the Algonquin. And the most important thing we learned is what we can do to protect our river.
Teagan Retty (participant), Ottawa River 2011.

I just wanted to write and say a big thank you to you and your team. My son, Drew participated in the Miramichi trip a couple of weeks ago. He had a really great time and was able to learn the importance of preserving & promoting our beautiful river. He made friends and memories, shared laughs and companionship, learned values and appreciation. Thanks again for your wonderful program.
Stacey Astle-Munn (parent), Miramichi River 2011.

We were pleased to hear that your aim is to work with CPAWS Chapters across Canada in the Canoe Canada 2012 project. We believe that the canoe-trip projects planned for each territory and province will not only provide youth with an environmental education but will also raise public awareness at all levels of society regarding the threats facing Canada's wilderness areas.
Éric Hébert-Daly, National Executive Director,
Canadian Parks and Wilderness Society.

We support the aims and objectives of the Canadian Canoe Foundation which provides Canadian youth with the opportunity to learn canoeing and camping skills while exploring Canada's waterways, share their experiences and new found knowledge with their communities and engage in education and advocacy activities that will promote the protection of Canada's world famous lakes and rivers.
Graham Ketcheson, Executive Director, Paddle Canada.
